

Key

Texts:

Jack and the Beanstalk

The World came to my place
today

Non-fiction texts about

Plants

Useful Websites:

www.phonicsplay.co.uk

lctgames.com

www.topmarks.com

Wow Days:

Caribbean KS1 WOW day– 26th May

Class Switzerland Creative Curriculum

What a Wonderful World!

'Global Goodness'

Visits:

Zoo– Term 6 details TBC

Key Dates:

Parent Consultations– w/b 24th April

Group photos– Thursday 4th May

Parent Share and Shine– Thursday 25th May @ 9:10am

At Ancaster, we are truly lucky to have a fantastic environment to live and work in. Throughout the summer term, we shall be broadening our understanding of other places, through the exciting class topic of 'Global Goodness'. We will be maximising our Geography skills through the stimulus text 'The World Came To My Place Today' (written by Jo Readman and Ley Honor Roberts). This text will provide lots of opportunities for us to develop our map skills, as we discover new countries and continents from around the world. We shall continue our topic in Design & Technology, by locating the origins of different world foods and use some of these ingredients in our own cooking! The children will also be using their textile skills to design and make their own hand puppets. In Science, we shall dissect and identify the parts of a real flowering plant; investigate how plants grow and use our new knowledge to write a helpful 'how to look after your plant' leaflet. Later in the term, we shall find out about living things and their habitats. History and PSHE will be taught alongside each other, as we learn about diversity around the world and link this to the historical story of Rosa Parks. In Music, we shall continue to develop our composition and performance skills, whilst also using song words to celebrate our wonderful world (What a Wonderful World- Louis Armstrong). RE will focus on stories of authority for Jews and Christians from the Bible, where we shall discover their meaning and think about the messages that they provide. In Art, we shall look at digital techniques and painting skills, to create eye-catching landmark pictures from around the world. During our PE sessions, we shall be developing our Multi-skills in the summer sunshine!